Dr. Belt

Dr. Smith

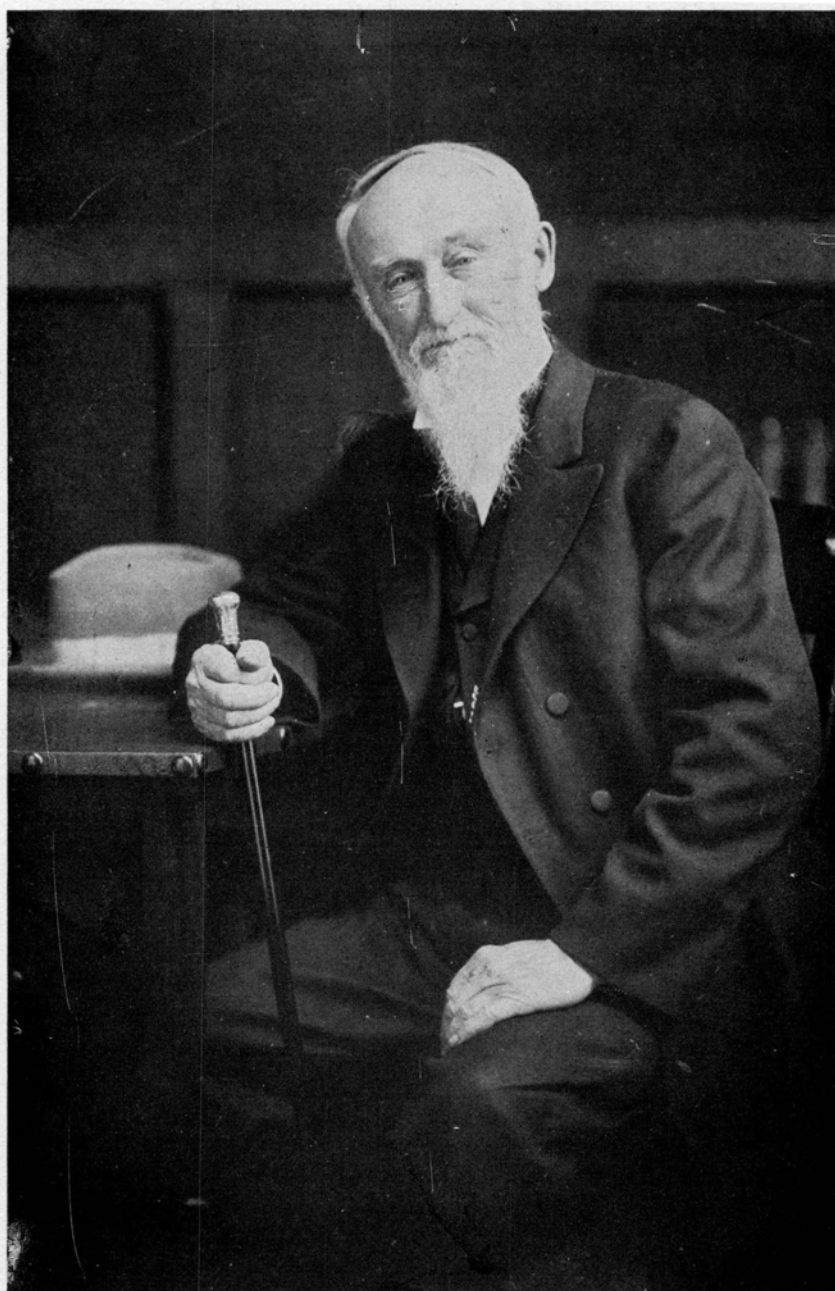

The founder, Dr. H. S. Lehr, of Ohio Northern University retired in 1902 and Dr. Leroy A. Belt was appointed President of the University. In 1904, Rev. Albert E. Smith was selected for the position. The latter served in this capacity for twenty-five years. Upon the retirement of Dr. Smith the Board of Trustees elected Dr. Robert Williams as his successor, who held the office for the following fourteen years. The present head of the institution, Dr. Robert O. McClure, entered office in 1943.

Dr. Henry Solomon Lehr founder of
Ohio Northern University

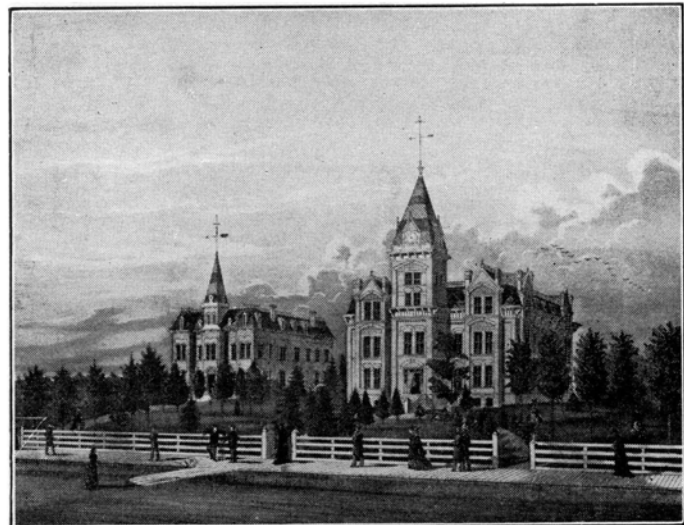

The beloved founder of Ohio Northern University, Dr. H. S. Lehr, was born at Weathersfield, Ohio, on March 8, 1838. He began his teaching career at the age of sixteen. In 1854 he entered Mount Union College where he later received an A.B. degree. After serving in the Union Forces during the Civil War, he was released in 1866 and came to Northwestern Ohio to establish his "select school". The choice of location was made due to the "wealth, health, and ease of access of Ada".

The school was established with the educational ideals Lehr had formed as a student, which included: co-education, ability to enroll students at any time of the year in classes suitable to them, non-sectarianism, the honor system for student's conduct, and minimum expenses. The first session opened on November 12, 1866, with an enrollment of fifty-six students.

In August of 1871 the name became Northwestern Ohio Normal. The first commencement exercises were held in 1874. There were eleven graduates and each was required to speak or to write a thesis. The name of the growing institution was changed again in 1885 to the Ohio Normal University.

Music was taught from the very beginning; the first instructor of music, Theodore Presser, later rose to unusual prominence in his field. Engineering was introduced but it was not until the 1890's that it became officially separated from the general college. The Department of Law, in response to a demand from numerous students, was organized in 1885 by J. Rose Lee, a former graduate of the University who became the first Dean of this department.

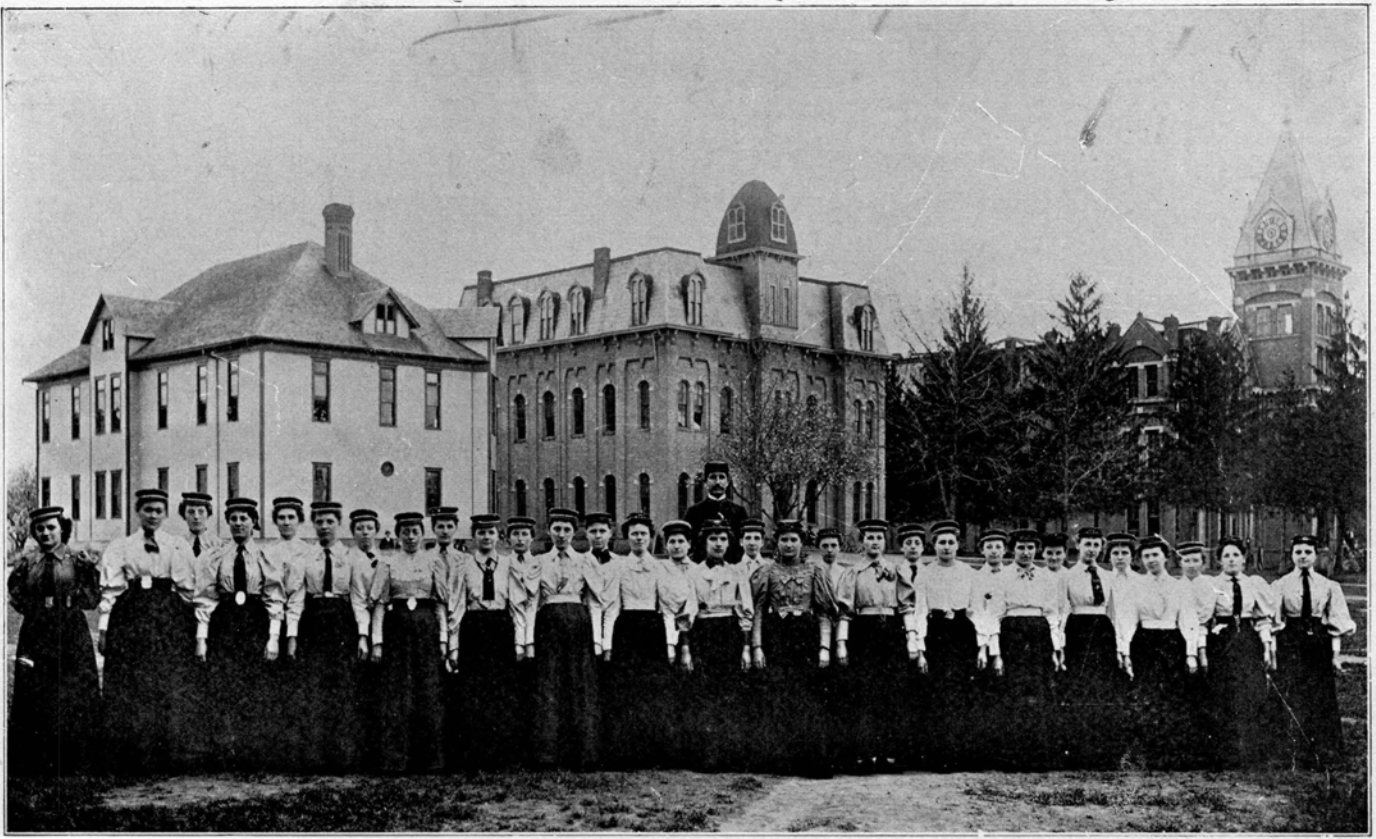

The Department of Pharmacy was established in 1866 in anticipation of legislation which would require all pharmacists to be examined by the state board. The continued expansion led to the construction in 1894 of a new building for its sole use.

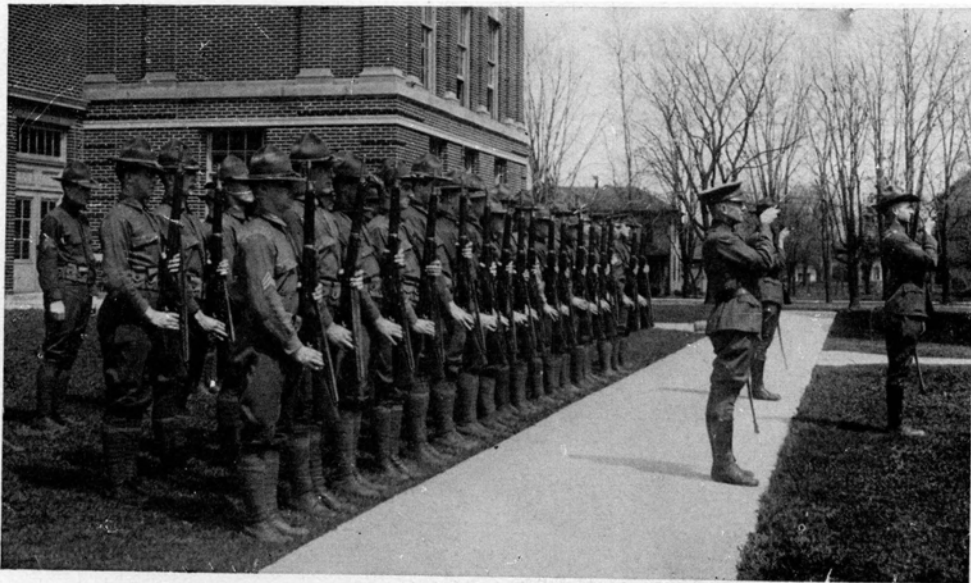

The first Founder's Day was observed during Commencement Week of 1897. The University had grown to include thirteen departments and an enrollment of over three thousand students.

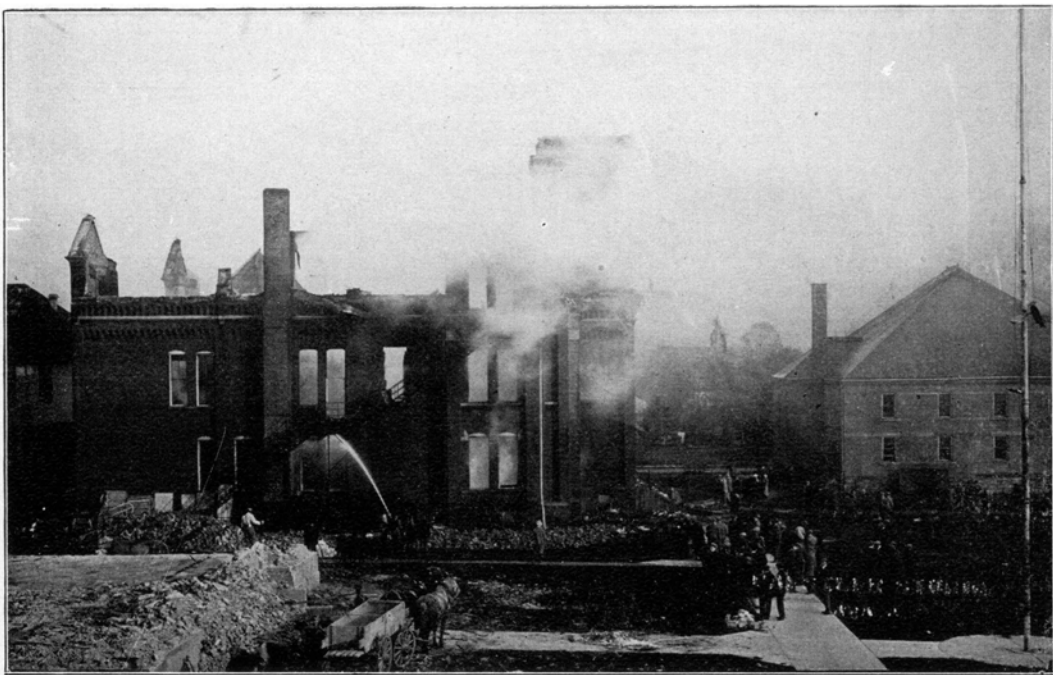

Early in the history of the University the martial spirit was fostered and encouraged. In 1884, to afford the students the needed exercise as well as to instruct in military science, a department was organized. The non-compulsion plan was adopted and its success was remarkable.

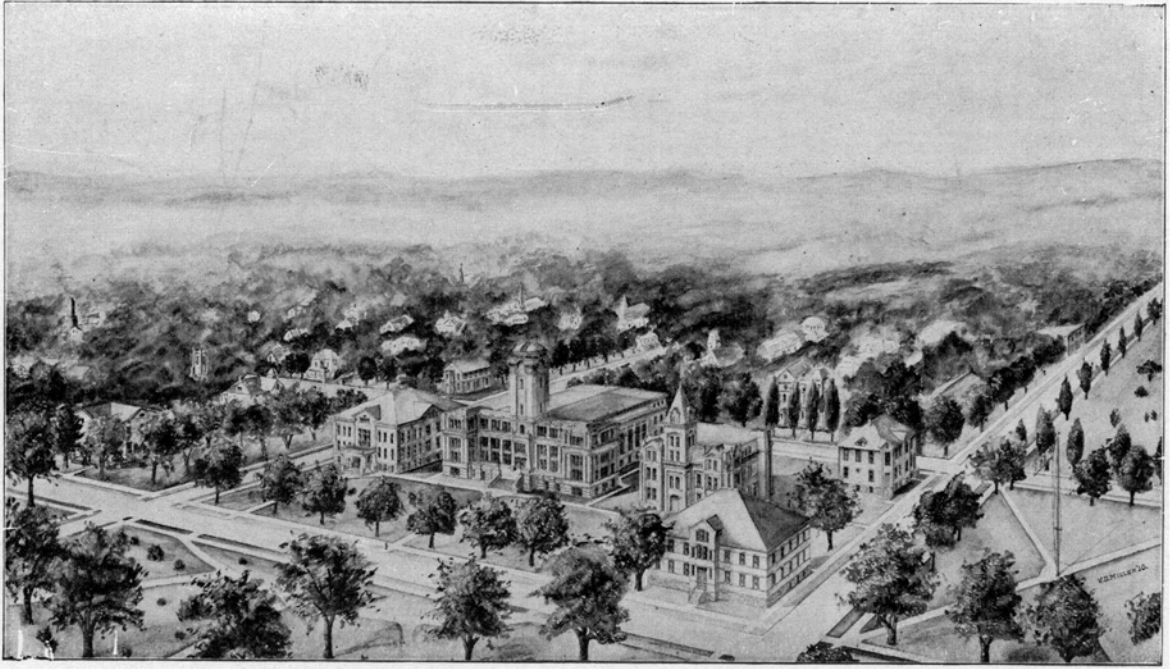

"The girls sometimes had classes in club swinging . . . and occasionally there was a girl's military company."

The old administration building burned in 1914 and the third floor was destroyed. It was then remodeled on a two-story plan and dedicated to John Wesley Hill, Sr. The steeple, a campus landmark, disappeared during the blaze. A number of years later, in 1921, a new clock was finally installed.

Architect's sketch including the proposed New Administration Building.

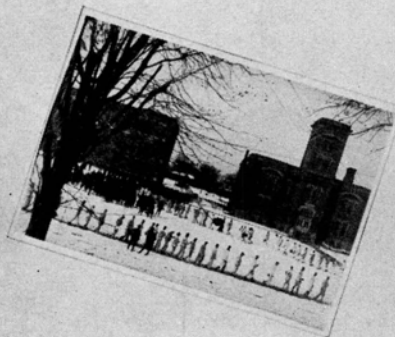

To afford better classrooms, Duke's Memorial was also reconditioned at this time. In 1923, grounds to the north of the campus were purchased and a building, dedicated to Warren G. Harding, was erected for the College of Law. Before the close of Dr. Smith's term additional land was purchased for the construction of Presser Hall which was to house the College of Music, and the John H. Taft gymnasium was being built on the athletic field.

The Franklin Society, established in 1871, and the Philomathean Society, 1879, comprised the two oldest literary groups on the campus. In 1880, for the purpose of creating a medium between the two, the Adelphean Literary Society was formed by Dr. Lehr. Besides acting as sponsors of the Hankinson and Deeds Oratorical contests and the Haskins Debate, the societies also took active part in the intercollegiate debating teams. As an anecdote to this serious acquisition of knowledge, the groups entered in intramural sports and enlivened the campus with their antics.

One of the long remembered customs of the University was the Engineers-Pharmics Day. Since its origin lay in the rivalry between the two rapidly growing colleges, combats between both individuals and groups resulted. In 1910 the leaders of the two departments were persuaded to "bury the hatchet", which was actually done with pompous and impressive ceremony. For several years an anniversary service was observed in commemoration of the lost feud.

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Armstrong A. Stambaugh, Mr. John H. Clark, Mr. Jay P. Taggart, Dr. Robert O. McClure, Mr. Curtis M. Shetler (absent).

The Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees

Ohio Northern shot forward in its seventy-fifth year to attain the highest registration for over a decade. Under the guidance of a capable administrator, though over-taxed by an over-flowing house, each problem was adjusted for the betterment of the University community.

During President McClure's four year administration many beneficial developments have taken place. Battling against extreme odds from the outset, he has brought the dying embers of a once proud university back to life.

President Robert O. McClure
M.A., D.D., LL.D.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Fifty years ago a distinguished college president said, "The future of our students is not made for them, they must make it for themselves." Your President believes that you, by careful planning, hard work and much sacrifice, will discover a wonderful future. No man is stronger than the obstacles he has overcome. To have served with you during your college days has been a joy. With profound appreciation of your worth you have my sincerest hope for happiness and success.

Robert O. McClure

Rudolph Henry Raabe, B.S., Ph.G., Ph.C., Phar. D.

Dean of the College of Pharmacy and Professor of Materia Medica

The College of Pharmacy has always been of credit to the University. Rated highly throughout the nation, it is accredited by and a member of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy and the American Council on Pharmaceutical Education.

Alexander Raffin Webb, B.S., M.S.E., C.E.

Dean of the College of Engineering and Professor of Civil Engineering

In 1947 the college includes four departments: civil, electrical, mechanical, and pre-chemical engineering. The College of Engineering has a distinguished record in adequately preparing men for service in all phases of this field.

Claude Westcoat Pettit, B.A., LL.B., LL.M.

Dean of the College of Law and Professor of Law

Over a long period of years during which many famous names were members of the Law College, a state wide reputation has been built for future graduates. The training for the practice of law, business careers, and service to the public commissions and legislature of Ohio, Northern students have proven outstanding.

Harvey Evert Huber, B.A., M.A.

Dean of the Liberal Arts College and Professor of Biology

In keeping pace with the changing conditions, a liberal education is a sound preparation and has always been encouraged by the Liberal Arts faculty. To familiarize the student with trends and tendencies in world affairs, electives in Arts and Sciences are given to add broad scope to their education.

Ending her first year as Dean in June 1947, she has worked closely with the women's groups in their activities and made revisions in co-ed regulations.

LIMA BRANCH COLLEGE

J. McLean Reed
B.S., M.A., D.Ped.
Administrative Officer

Ohio Northern accepted the challenge to provide a Lima Branch in August, 1946, to accommodate part of the large number of young men and women of the area who were unable to gain entrance to our colleges. The Branch College, under the supervision of Dr. Harry Vannorsdall of Ohio Northern and the direction of Mr. J. McLean Reed, Superintendent of Lima Public Schools, offered courses for the first year students in Liberal Arts, Engineering, Business Administration, etc.

Immediately following the primary arrangements, Mr. Reed, together with the cooperation of the LIMA NEWS and its editor, Mr. Robert C. Barton, began a series of articles concerning the Lima Branch to be opened with the regular term at Ohio Northern University on September 9, 1946.

With the registration of over 85 students ten days prior to the opening of school, the Superintendent submitted a list of competent high school instructors to teach the classes. All meetings were scheduled between the hours of 4:00 and 8:00 P.M. to avoid any conflict with the regular school at Central High where the Lima City Board of Education had extended the use of the building to the University for these classes.

Such cooperation between the Lima schools and Ohio Northern is widely recognized as a most conscientious effort to meet the needs of our young men and women.

FIGHT FOR BETTER WORLD BROMFIELD TELLS CLASS

Famed Author Speaks on 75th Anniversary of Ohio Northern

"The curse of over-specialization has afflicted the whole of our modern educational system. It penetrates every field . . . It produces all too often the engineer who knows only logarithms and the laws of strain and stress, when he should know how the dam he builds or the road or bridge he constructs, affects or is affected by agriculture, forestry, sociology, economy, transportation, distribution . . ." asserted Louis Bromfield, commencement speaker at Ohio Northern University on Sunday, June 2. An able and entertaining speaker, the famed Mansfield novelist had his crowd of 1,200 persons hanging on to every word.

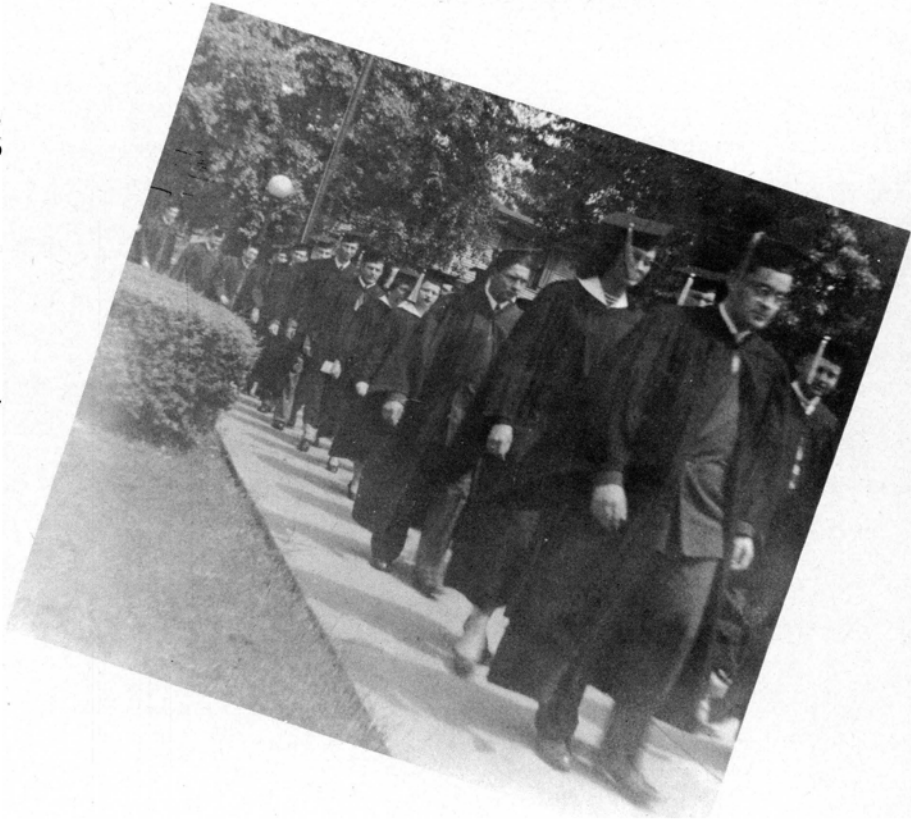

Continuing, Mr. Bromfield said, "We produce at times in our universities, men who sit behind desks and teach their pupils that when they have finished the course, they have learned all there is to learn about the subject for all time.

"This over-specialization leads to the mind which confuses plumbing and automobiles with civilization, whereas these things are no more than the instruments which can, if properly used, serve man in his upward climb towards the greater and richer rewards of culture and civilization. In an industrial-mechanical age, we have reached that point where all too often, man is the victim and the servant of machinery, instead of being its master, understanding how to use it wisely to attain a richer life and a finer civilization.

75 YEARS

Ohio Northern celebrated its Diamond Anniversary in 1946 and by proclamation of Dr. Robert O. McClure the celebration continued through the following school year. Honorary degrees were conferred upon Dr. E. E. Helms who gave the baccalaureate sermon and to Mr. Louis Bromfield, principal speaker of the 1946 Commencement Exercises.

OHIO NORTHERN

The Ohio Northern Chorus-Choir is maintained to represent a distinct cultural phase of University life and to make possible the enjoyment of good music. It is traditional for the organization to give several local concerts and to make out-of-town performances each year.

Karl A. Roider, voice professor and head of the Music Department, displayed much interest and worked endlessly for perfection in the well-balanced group.

DUO-PIANO CONCERT

Nationally known pianists were featured early in March under the sponsorship of the Music Department. Harry Watts and George McNabb, members of the faculty of the Eastman School of Music, presented a delightful and varied program ranging from Bach to Gershwin.

Presser Hall

After backing up the football squad during several games and being a prominent part of the Homecoming Parade, the University Band presented a concert in Lehr Auditorium during the winter quarter. Mid-year graduations diminished the group but after having regained its strength early in the spring, the band presented its last concert of the year from the lawn of Presser Hall in May.

“MESSIAH”

Annually the University's Music Department presents the yuletide masterpiece, Handel's "Messiah." Many voices other than those of the student choir were included in the chorus. Following the presentation this year, a reception was held in Alumnae Hall in honor of the guest soloists.

THETA ALPHA PHI

Theta Alpha Phi, the national honorary dramatic fraternity, was opened in 1921 to every student on campus who was interested in dramatic work. Membership was based on dramatic ability and activity in stage groups. Its purpose was to develop the techniques of the theatre in its members.

NORTHERN PLAYERS

*Sitting: McAtee, Kennedy, Mathews, Carr, Taifalidakis, Sneary, Motter, Hinds, Sidey.
Standing: Aquilina, Fisher, Gillespie, Baker, Shyrock, Fredericks, Butler.*

One of the few old campus organizations that remained alive during the war years, the Northern Players presented two plays in 1947. "The Ryan Girl" appeared in February and "Blithe Spirit" in May, both under the able direction of stage veteran, Major Cliffe Deming. Membership in the players group is open to all students of the University interested in the theatre.

One of the smallest but most technical groups on campus, the Northern Radio Club was again an extra-curricular name in the fall quarter. Due to war-time restrictions on amateur transmission the old organization was forced to disband in 1942. The purpose of the men responsible for station W8AOT today is to put Ohio Northern on the amateur radio map as well as to give themselves practical application in their future profession.

Basically a religious group, the activities presented by this organization were of a far reaching influence on the campus. Such programs as their Fine Arts Appreciation Hour, international relations through World Brotherhood programs, and their sharing in the World Student Service Fund Campaign and sponsorship of the Christmas Vespers pageant, contributed immensely to the rejuvenation of campus life.

FROM “THE NATIVITY”

The Christmas Vespers Pageant was presented in 1946 by the Student Christian Association. A Northern tradition, the Pageant was presented in several parts: a reading-by Major Cliffe Deming entitled “Why the Chimes Rang”; “The Nativity”, an original orientation by Ben Rider; and a group of appropriate selections by the Chorus-Choir. The entire program was conducted in a pious atmosphere created by candlelight which was used throughout the ceremony. It brought to the audience the significance of the season in which it was presented.

Organized in 1916, the association was recently reactivated in the University. With Rev. Marion Tinsler as advisor, they met weekly with the purpose of developing spiritual life and discussing the problems connected with their field.

With the influx of war veterans and their families in 1945, a new club was established which promised to last several years. Made up of the wives of University students, the group met bi-weekly and presented educational as well as recreational programs. It was still a growing organization at the date of publication.

A. C. S.

The anniversary year found the Student Affiliates of the American Chemical Society reorganizing on Northern's campus. Working for a bigger and better organization, they held frequent meetings to gain practical knowledge of the science of chemistry. Some of the discussion topics were: "What to Expect in Graduate School", "Industrial Chemistry", and "Relation of Chemistry to Pharmacy".

NU THETA KAPPA

Under the leadership of Dean Webb and assisted by Prof. Weishampel, the honorary fraternity regained its pre-war strength. Informal supper meetings, during which technical questions were discussed, were held at frequent intervals. Membership includes high ranking students of the several departments of the College of Engineering.

A. I. E. E.

The Ohio Northern student branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers is a professional society for undergraduate students. Its purpose is to create greater interest among the members of the department of electrical engineering. Bi-weekly meetings were held during which speakers and motion pictures were presented.

A. S. M. E.

This department, the second largest in the Engineering College, overcame the difficulties of crowded classes confronting them at the beginning of the year. Under the able supervision of Prof. Weishampel, the Ohio Northern student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers was greatly aided by further additions to the faculty.

RADIO DEBATE

One of radio's most controversial topics was the subject of a lively debate over WLOK, NBC affiliate in Lima, on January 31. Students comprising the debating team were guests of the radio station to debate the topic: "Radio Commercials Should Be Abolished". At the request of Ralph Elvin, managing director of WLOK, the collegians pulled no punches in expressing their views, and the resulting debate aroused great interest among listeners. No decision was given. The program was a standout among the public interest broadcasts carried by the station.

NORTHERN

Production of the 1947 Northern was begun late in February following the appointments of the main staff officers for a second time. Due to the work previously completed of a business nature, a new precedent was set by discarding the office of business manager and incorporating that position with the one of editor. Two assistant editors were named to carry the detailed editorial load leaving the editor free to carry out the overall plan for editorial and business policies.

The Student Publication Office was organized with an eye into the future, hoping that the annual yearbook and the University bi-weekly newspaper, The Northern Review, would be supported by one efficient staff synchronized to produce better publications. Though impractical in a large institution due to the many students applying for this extra curricular work, such an organization would work with greater efficiency at Northern due to the small number of applicants. The need for this plan has not been recently recognized but has been apparent for many years.

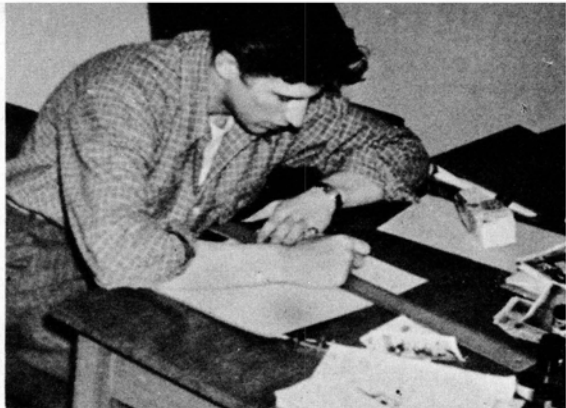

Northern expenses are defrayed in several ways, book sales naturally being the largest. The pre-subscription plan used in 1947 saved a heavy last minute sales campaign and relieved the business manager of much unnecessary worry. Space sold to campus organizations and advertisers contribute a considerable portion. It is hoped that in the future several shows and dances will be sponsored throughout the year, each contributing to the production of its sponsor, The Northern.

A considerable portion of the credit must be given to the pictured members of the Northern's staff, but there are also others who aided in the production of the book. Organized in 1929 to assist the co-ed in her campus life, the Association of Women Students has become an important part of the University. All women students are members and the A.W.S. Board, its governing body, is chosen by open election. The majority of the Association's functions are mandatory for the co-eds although many of its original purposes have been discarded. During the school year activities supervised by the Board included: the Recognition Dinner, the Leadership Dinner, a Christmas Formal Dance, and the Freshman Hell Week for women.

SURVEY

Prior to the fall elections of November 1946, members of Dr. Wilfred E. Binkley's Political Parties class made a house to house canvass of Ada's Precinct 'D'. The survey was conducted in behalf of the Republican party for their poll book of the area. The project took two weeks to complete and though the individual routes were relatively small, the men found that more than one trip was necessary to obtain hearings from the citizens. Many of the Ada voters in this precinct played 'hard to get' by saying they were non-partisan. The final figures showed pro-Republican sentiment and the amateur politicians pictured above showed sore feet.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

Brewer, Prentice, Warner, Goldenberg, Wilson, Rev. M. E. Tinsler, F. Gren, Schwall.

The Interfraternity Council is an old part of the extra-curricular activities of Ohio Northern. It is made up of one representative from each fraternity and a faculty advisor. The Pan-Hellenic Council is the female counterpart of this group.

Representatives are elected by the brothers for their knowledge of campus protocol and ability to deal with campus problems. Primarily designed to work only with interfraternity business, the group replaced the Student Council until the latter was reorganized late in April.

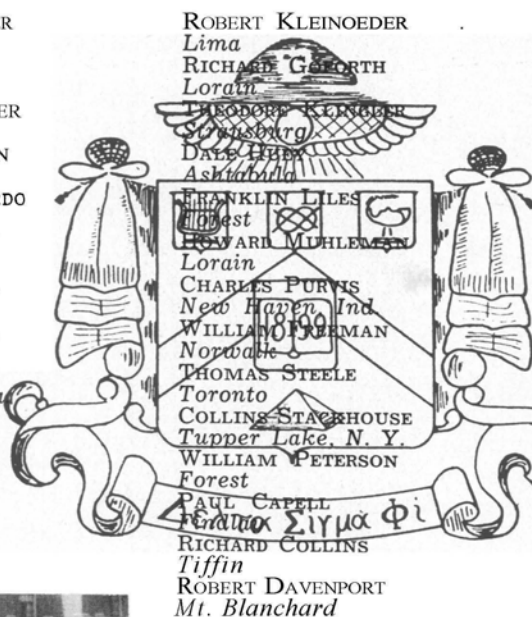

Despite the short notice given them, members of the Council successfully planned and executed the events for Homecoming Weekend.

SHORTS

The athletic teams of 1946-47 were made of different material than those during the years leading to World War II. Being a more matured group with an average age well above that of former squads, the men worked hard getting into condition. Though many of the final scores were adverse, the players preserved the Ohio Northern reputation of fine sportsmanship.

Lefty Murphy, Head Coach and the man who tutored the ONU football conference champs of '42, returned to the University in the fall after army service. The two men are working for better sports at Ohio Northern

BASEBALL

After much confusion as to whether or not ONU would participate in intercollegiate baseball, the first game was played on April 14. The ball club promised a successful season from the beginning by defeating Bluffton 15 to 4. The men were not only fine swatters but were also resourceful. This was shown by their construction of Wibbler Field, the new diamond.

N MEN

The N Men's Club is composed of Ohio Northern athletes who have earned their letters as members of the squads participating in intercollegiate competition. Its purposes are to promote sportsmanship and to back athletic activities of the University. The annual All Sports Banquet is given in the spring of each year by the Interfraternity Council with the N Men as honored guests. It is at this time that the major sports awards are presented.

LEADERS

One of the smallest squads participating in intercollegiate sports, the Cheerleaders worked as hard as did the major teams they supported. Heckled by the lack of funds for uniforms and trip expenses, they solved their financial difficulties by giving a profitable sports dance. They also had a set back while enroute to a basketball game at Tiffin when Ritter suffered more than the Ford coupe or the tree which met quite unnaturally.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

An extensive schedule of intramural sports is planned each year for the benefit of the average University student. Miss Jo Ann Sidey handled the women's program and Vincent Lombardo directed the men's. In consideration of the inadequate equipment as the result of post-war shortages, they have done a remarkable job.

EVENTS

HELL

Traditionally the poor "Frosh" must endure their punishment at the hands of the merciless sophomores. As you can see, their apparel lacked sex appeal. Freshmen, your day will come. Sororities and fraternities also have their "hazing days".

WEEK

The TK's gave one of the more unique parties of the year. The interior of the house assimilated a hobo jungle. The girls put on a chorus-like skit honoring the king and queen of the tramps, Sally Jo Varner and Bill Wright. The atmosphere was in line with ragged garb, straw, tin cans for cups and kerosene lanterns—only one thing was amiss. Where was the Mulligan stew?

H O B O H O P

ENGINEERS'

BALL

The annual ball held by the engineers of O.N.U.'s campus this year was held in Taft Gym. Everyone donned his best duds for the gala evening and even the profs and their best gals enjoyed themselves. Old man weather himself with all his misty moisty weather couldn't put a damper on the fun.

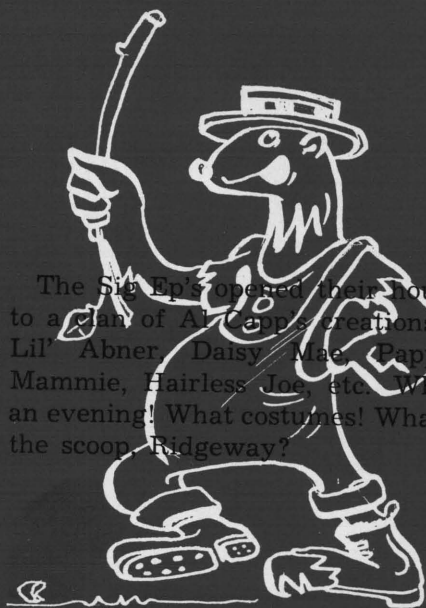

"Casey at the Bat" took an odd twist when presented on Lehr Auditorium's stage by the baseball team. "Casey"—Jack Hovis—put all he had into it but the ending was still the same—he struck out! The program was presented to encourage every student of O.N.U to attend the baseball games held at Wibbeler Field. Each game we attended here helped to send the boys to out-of-town games. Also on the program were the three mad musicians and the Sig Ep hillbilly band.

LIL' ABNER DANCE

The Sig Ep's opened their house to a night of Al Capp's creations—Lil' Abner, Daisy Mae, Pappy, Mammie, Hairless Joe, etc. What an evening! What costumes! What's the scoop, Ridgeway?

THETA FORMAL

The Theta formal captured the spirit of spring-time. Syncopated rhythm offered by Bernie Welsh and his band, plus a delightfully jovial crowd, combined to constitute an unforgettable dance. Couples, dressed in gay formal gowns, neat suits and tuxedos, floated over the floor of the Top Flight Dance hall. Of course they had their usual bit of hilarity. If you think not . . . just take a look at the Capell brothers.

SPORTS HOP at TURNER HALL

The freshie girls at Turner Hall made their own entertainment for an evening by giving a house dance. Lassies brought out their good lookin' duds and lads their bow ties and sharp suits. A big time was had by all!

HOME COMING

The traditional celebration of Homecoming of the University's alumnae went over with a big bang. The night before the big day was spent in decorating fraternity and sorority houses and early the next morning the various groups competed in a record-breaking hour of contests and races. Miss Virginia Clark was crowned Homecoming Queen during the half-time of the Otterbein-Northern football game played that afternoon on the Kenton Field. She was rightfully attended by Doris St. Louis, Jean Thomas and Jean Kinkley. The band and girls' physical education classes also filled in during the half. Although we were defeated by Otterbein everyone seemed to maintain their gay spirits for the dance held that evening in the old Brown Gymnasium.

MAY

DAY

"Everybody out!" That was the call of the Student Council on May Day for a good old fashioned clean-up job of the campus. Fraternities, sororities and independents took rakes, hoes and brooms in hand and really went to town leaving the campus looking spic and span by noon. The scheduled baseball game with Toledo University, dedication of the new baseball diamond Wibbeler Field—and crowning of the May Day Queen in the afternoon had to be postponed temporarily because old man rain entered, but all went as planned at the dance held that evening in Taft Gym. It was sponsored by the baseball team.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

During the winter quarter, revisions were made on the old student constitution enabling newly created groups fair representation. This was the natural outcome of a document designed for a small student body which could no longer be applied due to the growth of the University. After weeks of heated attempts toward revision, the ammendments were accepted in March. Immediately following, class officers were chosen as well as representatives to the Student Council. The latter met in Alumnae Hall on April 2, and in turn, chose the Council officers. As the mid point of the spring quarter approached, the little man on campus was expecting great things from the new student government. Much of the credit for the reorganization went to the Reverend Marion Tinsler, Men's Counselor, where it was certainly due after his extra efforts in that direction.

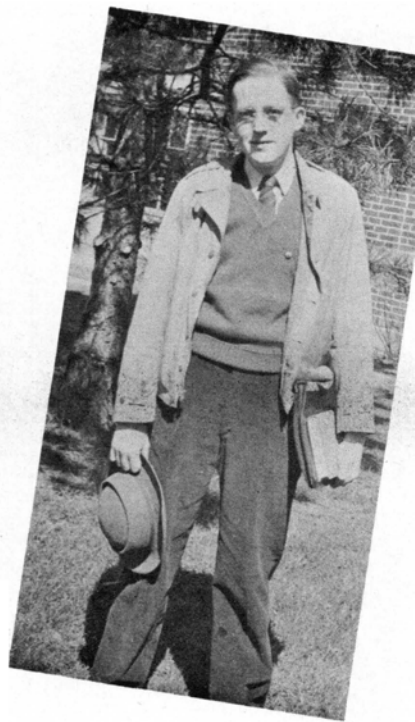

President of the Student Council David Marion Myers is a junior in the College of Law and president of the Delta Theta Phi, professional law fraternity.

BMOC

'Big Men on Campus' has seldom been used in the yearbooks of Ohio Northern. In an attempt to set some sort of precedent to be followed by later years, the men included on these pages are Big Men for rather diversified reasons. For example: Chas. Strasbaugh is one of the most outstanding athletes in the University as are Frank Gren, Bernie Kauffman and Larry Archer; Peter Aquilina, one of our leading musicians; Suraj Bahadur, an unofficial traveling salesman for ONU as he speaks throughout the state before various clubs; Earl Brush, an honor student and fellow leader in the business of the Engineering College with Archer.

Bahadur
Thomas, Robertson
Aquilina

Monroe

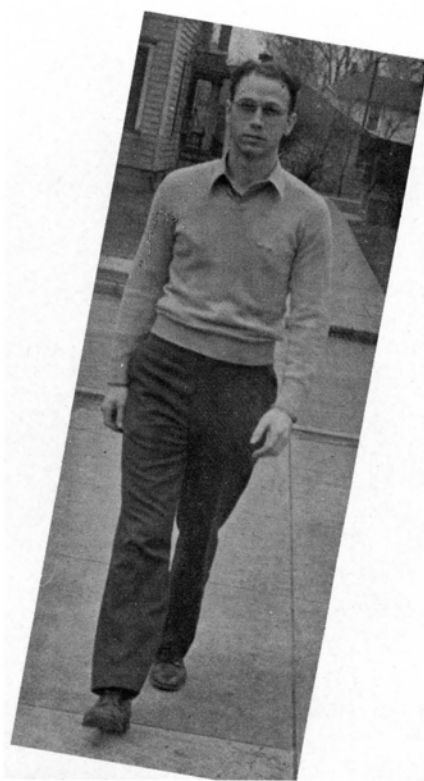

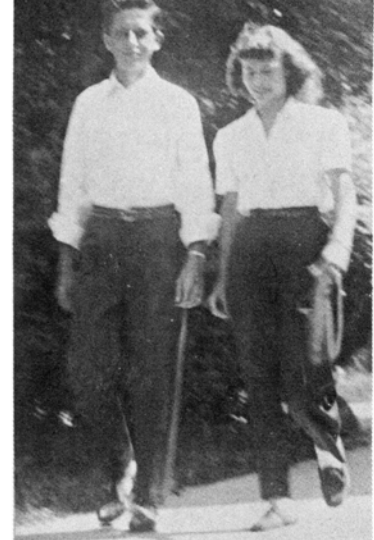

Kauffman

We then picked Al Monroe, Bob Davenport, Jim Halfhill, George Thomas and Don Robertson, Paul Sutton and Jack Cahill for a mixture of their scholastic abilities, campus personalities, and cooperation in campus affairs. The shot of the Delta Sig porch is not a plug for that outfit but rather of what BMOC look like 'off the record'.

Gren
Archer
Brush

Here we have five of the innumerable pairs of personalities who are either temporarily or permanently aligned. Some are shy and others, well, others are seen everywhere . . . drinking cokes or whispering over a corner table, walking down the main drag hand in hand or sitting on the steps of Hill waiting for another class. Upper left walk Sue Hamakawa and John Blackwood; middle, Russell Shively and Lucy Coates; upper right are Marj DaPore and Keith Bair; lower left, Winnie Herring and Royce Nicholas posing; beside them are the talkative Penny Penn and Don Nash.

COUPLES

(who ain't)

COUPLES

(who is)

Due to the large married population at Northern, it would be wrong to devote both of these pages to them 'who ain't'. Consequently, here are seen those who don't hold hands anymore or wear corsages and boutonnières to formal dances very often. Reason: Mission Accomplished or, "Veni, Vidi, Vici". Upper right is a never-to-be-forgotten symbol of 'that day'. It is appropriate here. Upper left are the Gallons, Lower left are the Thumas, then the Steeles, and then the Klines.

Who says we aren't contented!

Presser Colony

TRAILER

Trailer living has become one of the main sides of habitation as a result of the post-war housing shortage. The three large colonies of government trailers established at ONU to relieve the shortage of apartments which were demanded by the large number of married students, have been fully occupied since the day of their availability. The first of the group, Presser Colony, so named due to its proximity to the Presser Hall of Music, was inhabited during the winter quarter of '45-'46. The Lehr and Taft Colonies (the first is on the west end of Lehr Avenue and the latter just behind Taft Gym) each are about one year old.

Trailer living was first looked down upon by many of the veteran wives, but their spouses soon assured them that the mobile homes could be made into comfortable cottages. Before too long, the young couples became acclimated to their temporary housing conditions and found common interests with their student neighbors. Local jokes and 'beefs' arose as expected. Some were satisfied by the establishment of colonial governments, others such as the daily water carrying detail, remained without prospective abatement as jokes.

Sure It's Wonderful!

COLONIES

On these pages we see eight of the many houses occupied by the student population. It is in these domiciles that they not only gain the knowledge they've come to college for, but also where their best college memoirs are founded. Top left is the Delta Sig house; top right, Turner Hall; mid-left, the Sig Eps; lower left is the Kappa Psi's; lower right The Terrace.

RESIDENCES

RESIDENCES

And on this page we have the Theta Kaps house in the upper left; the—as you see—the A.E. Pi's, upper right; bottom, the Theta's abode. House dances are given regularly in the fraternity and sorority houses throughout the year.

"Some would say this is a world of confusion, even of despair . . . It is perhaps an uncomfortable world and one filled with anxieties, economic, political and social, yet it is one of the greatest periods of history when history itself is being made under our very eyes, with the passing of each day. . . It would be stupid either to submit through ignorance or indifference to the wrongs of the times or fail to understand what a better world can be and not to fight for it. . .

"It is impossible in the midst of the confusion of these embittered times to give proper appraisal to these currents or to fathom wholly their significance. It may be that we are passing through a period of disintegration, or a period of transition, or we may be in the process of making great advances. One thing is certain—that another great war in our times will reduce the continent of Europe to the level of the Dark Ages . . .

"In this modern age, so closely knit by its industrial character and shrunken to a fifth of its former size by the mechanical inventions, radio, airplane, telephone, etc., the Malay, Hottentot and Russian become our close neighbors and interdependents: In such a world and with such weapons as modern warfare possesses, it becomes clear that we can no more suffer or permit international war. Perhaps the greatest obstacle to real world peace and government today is the fact that people of the world and its diplomats and leaders have not yet chosen to base their laws and actions upon the real and shrunken world. . . . "In all of this, it must not be forgotten that in a shrunken world, there has been a horizontal war in progress and at the same time a vertical war. While nations fought a vertical war, there existed within their own borders, warfare among classes—a horizontal warfare which cut across the heart of every nation in the world. Neither war is as yet settled . . .

"It seems to me that education has largely failed its obligations for these reasons: over-specialization; because our educational institutions have suffered from lack of money and moral support. The schools from the grade schools upward through the university should be placed first on the schedule of public expenditure; it has failed through the academic blight which has always threatened education since the first cave man made pictures on the cave walls . . . The greatest thing a college can plant in any individual is the seed of intellectual curiosity."

"Education does not end at the door of the university but the university has provided you with the foundation upon which to build the greater structure of intellectual growth and aspiration. Go forth to the world that has desperate need of you."
